

MY FRUITFUL SUMMER STATEMENT

To me, Fruitful Summer means _____

One meaningful thing I would love to do this summer is _____

I'm letting go of the expectation that this summer has to be perfect to be meaningful. My favorite summer memories as a kid were _____

I'm also letting go of feeling like I have to be there perfect friend to have meaningful friendships. I'm laying down the guilt. I sometimes feel imperfect as a friend because _____

But, there's grace. I need grace and I'm giving grace to my friends too. Here's how: _____

A few adventures I want to go on this summer are: _____

The people I want to spend time with this summer are _____

I want to spend more time doing _____ and want my summer to be full of Fruitful friendship is imperfect, and it's our imperfections that connect us together authentically. No one is perfect. No one has it all together. WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER!

MY WORD FOR THIS SUMMER IS:
